WHAT MERCHANTXPORTER COORDINATES

■ Range architecture

Build by consumer, use case, silhouette and market role.

■ Material specification

Confirm fibre blend, yarn direction and construction.

■ Fit and grading

Approve target sizes, cuff height and physical size set.

■ Branding and artwork

Coordinate colours, motifs, logo and label direction.

■ Sampling

Review the physical pair, size set and presentation together.

■ Export configuration

Look unit pack, inner pack, carton and shipment needs.

SOCKS DEVELOPMENT

Build the pair, size set and presentation as one controlled system.

Material, construction, fit, design and packaging decisions are connected. The approved physical sample remains the reference for production and inspection.

BUYER VIEW

Every final product, claim, component and pack remains subject to sample approval and destination requirements.

THE RANGE

Contents

Every product page uses the same 2 x 3 grid. Product illustrations, three decision cues and two product-matched packaging routes stay inside one fixed geometry.
